Political Prestige Tactics

Secretary of State George Brodigan, as a member of the board of prison commissioners, has ordered a sweeping investigation of conditions as exist at the state prison as the result of the escape from the condemned cell of murderer Fred Skinner. Rumors have been in circulation about the capitol that Skinner received aid in making his dash for liberty and it is probably the intention of the board of prison commissioners to probe these rumors to determine if they are based upon facts.

It should now be the duty of the citizens of Nevada to ask for a probe of the prison commissioners. Brodigan and the governor are responsible for present conditions at the prison, for it was due to their votes that the present warden was placed in office. The job of ousting Warden Baker was carried out for the purpose of satisfying selfish motives, as was admitted by the secretary of state. The governor, of course, did not admit as much. No persuasion was used.

While the people of southern Nevada have no great respect for Baker, it must be admitted that he conducted the state prison in a manner that demands credit be given where credit is due. His tactics, while not popular with the mass of people of Nevada, proved to be correct, and it was only by constant application to duties and deep study that success marked his work. He was ousted by Brodigan that political power might be gained. Brodigan failed to remember that he was elected to office to serve for the best interests of the people of Nevada and not for the sole purpose of establishing a political fence at the cost of the taxpayers. His motives were undeniably selfish and now he is reaping his just reward. He has asked that his own benchman, placed at the head of the state prison, be investigated. Such is political power.

If the board of prison commissioners would forget politics and carry out the duties demanded in a manner that would react for the best interests of all concerned, the bills of the taxpayers would be materially reduced. There is too much politics at the state capital for the general good of this state and a housecleaning should be had at the coming election. Unfortunately, the offices are to be filled for four years, and two years remain before the voters will have opportunity to express their views on the subject.

Considerable scandal was let loose and aired throughout the western press at the hearing of the charges made by the governor against former Warden Baker. The same results may be had from the hearing that is now under way. Such news does not react for the good of the state, and as soon as efficient men are placed at the head of the various state offices, filled by appointive power, good will result for Nevada. Under present conditions, as have been amply demonstrated, the offices are filled with the idea of gaining political prestige, and every attempt to gain power thus far has proved a failure.

The members of the senate committee investigating the campaign contributions, who stopped the hearing to watch the score board mark the progress of the world's championship baseball game, are no more than human.

Uneasy lies the head that wears the state prison wardenship crown. Two wardens in two years is the record of the present board of prison commissioners. Next! Why not give the job to Sardis Summerfield?

According to all the telephone messages Roosevelt claims to have sent ordering the refusal of contributions from trusts for his campaign, he must have worked overtime standing at the 'phone in 1904.

The man who placed the "odor" in Theodore is said to have lived at Armageddon, but has since moved after being accused of placing the "rose" in Roosevelt.

AUTO PARTY FROM THE COAST REACHES TONOPAH

J. A. JONES, WELL KNOWN REAL ESTATE DEALER, AGAIN VISITING THIS CITY

J. A. Jones, the Richmond real estate dealer, accompanied by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. A. Gardner of Oakland arrived in Tonopah yesterday. The party made the trip from the coast in Mr. Jones' machine.

This is the first visit of Mr. Jones to Tonopah since July when he was hurried to the coast to enter a hospital. As the result of an accident he was forced to undergo the amputation of his right leg. Since his recovery Mr. Jones has continued to operate his automobile and drove the entire distance between Oakland and this city.
